Item 4—Advisory Business

A. Description of the Company

Optimal Asset Management, Inc. is a Delaware limited liability company. The firm was founded in June 2012 by Vijay Vaidyanathan, who is the CEO. We provide sub-advisory and investment advisory services to private investment funds, investment managers, pooled investment vehicles, as well as trusts, qualified retirement plan sponsors and other business entities. We are a fee-only firm and we recognize a fiduciary duty to each of our clients to act in their best interests at all times.

B. Types of Investment and Advisory Services Offered

We offer two advisory platforms:

1. Separately managed accounts (SMAs);
2. Private investment fund partnerships (i.e., long-only or long-short funds)

Both the SMAs and partnerships will be managed simultaneously by Optimal Asset Management, Inc. Each SMA generally will have its own investment objectives and the trading strategy will differ accordingly. However, our core focus is in building “blended” smart beta portfolios based on risk premia factors, which therefore enable an investor to better understand the nature of his risk exposures. We currently do not offer a private investment fund (as of 3/31/16), but intend to launch a new fund that reflects our factor-based philosophy by the middle of 2016. For those certain clients who are unable or unwilling to subscribe for interest partnership interests in the Partnership for any reason, we will offer an SMA version of the Partnership's trading strategy.

C. Scope of Services

Separately Managed Accounts

Our SMAs are tailored to meet the specific needs of individual clients. SMA clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. Other restrictions may be imposed by SMA clients with respect to leverage, concentration, absolute risk, tracking error, and trading/rebalancing frequency, among other aspects.

Prism Quant Fund I, LP

Optimal Asset Management, Inc. served as the general partner of Prism Quant Fund I, LP (the "Partnership"), a private investment limited partnership. As of March 22, 2016, the general partner liquidated all funds and closed the private investment limited partnership. Optimal Asset Management determined that, in light of its increased focus on factor-based investing, the Prism Quant Fund I, whose long-short investment strategy was developed in 2013, no longer reflected the investing focus and philosophy of the company.

D. Wrap fee programs

We do not offer wrap fee programs.

E. Assets Under Management

The Advisor is an investment advisory firm. It is registered with the SEC. As of December 31, 2015, we had $349,302,443.40 in regulatory assets under management.

Item 5—Fees and Compensation

A. Types of Compensation

Separately Managed Accounts

The fees for the separately managed accounts (SMA's) are based on customer-specific negotiations/customization requirements, but are generally a certain fixed percentage of AUM (with a minimum fee), possibly on a sliding scale for increased AUM with each client.

A. Method of billing -Separately Managed Accounts

Fees are generally calculated quarterly and paid quarterly based on the market value of the account at the end or as an average of the previous quarter. Exceptions are made to the published fee schedule under certain circumstances pursuant to a negotiated fee agreement with the client.

We follow the following process for our clients' protection:

- Each client account is separately held by a "qualified custodian;"
- The custodian sends statements no less frequently than quarterly showing all disbursements from the account, including the amount of the advisory fee; and
- Each client provides written authorizations for us to be directly paid on these terms.

Either the client or Optimal Asset Management may terminate the investment advisory agreement at any time by providing written notice to the other party. Full refunds will only be made in cases where cancellation occurs within five days of signing our investment advisory agreement. After five business days, clients will receive a pro- rata refund.

B. Other Fees and Costs

In addition to the management fee set forth above, separately managed account clients may pay some or all of the following costs and expenses to third parties:

Custodial Fees: All custody costs and expenses are charged by the custodian to the account.

Trading Costs: Separately-managed account clients pay transaction fees (ticket charges) which generally are charged by the custodian on a transaction-by-transaction basis.

Transaction costs: Separately-managed account clients pay all commissions, bid-ask spreads, mark-up 's and similar transaction costs which may be incurred in connection with the purchase and sale of individual securities.

C. Return of Unearned Management Fees

When an investment advisory agreement commences or terminates between an account's regular valuation dates, a pro rata adjustment is made with respect to the management fee for the partial period. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees are promptly refunded.

D. Compensation From the Sale of Investment Products

We do not accept compensation or commissions for the sale of securities or other investment products.

Item 6—Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Clients who invest in a partnership generally pay an annual performance fee based on the partnership's new profits. Performance-based fees are fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client (such as a client like a partnership). Currently, with the liquidation of the Prism Quant Fund I, the company does not advise to any partnerships.

Performance based fee arrangements may create an incentive for us to make investments which may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be made under a different fee arrangement.

Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing accounts that are charged performance-based fees while at the same time managing that are not charged performance-based fees. We currently do not manage any accounts with a performance-based fee; the separately-managed accounts are not performance-based.

Item 7—Types of Clients

We provide investment services to individual and institutional investors including, for example, private investment funds, other investment managers, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, charitable institutions, foundations and endowments.

Item 8—Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Our investment strategy with our clients generally begins with a thoughtful interaction to discuss existing and desired risk factor exposures, with the help of our software tool, Factor Blender™. Factor Blender™ enables an investor or advisor to understand his/her existing factor exposures, target vulnerabilities in the factor profile presented by a manager or set of managers, and target complementary or replacement strategies, through a portfolio vehicle consisting of long-only equity portfolios. Given the specific universe and mandate size, we build a portfolio with the capacity, rebalancing, and tracking error constraints required, to match our client's needs. Generally, we refer to these portfolios as "Factor Portfolios", which we have to date implemented with a partner of our or our client's choosing.

It is important to note that the performance of any investment is subject to numerous factors which are neither within the control of, nor predictable by, Optimal Asset Management or our portfolio managers. These factors include a wide range of economic, political, competitive and other conditions which may affect investments in general or within specific industries or companies.

Item 9—Disciplinary Information

We have no legal or disciplinary events to report involving Optimal Asset Management or Mr. Vaidyanathan or any other members of the Optimal Asset Management staff.

Item 10—Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliation

None to report

Item 11—Code of Ethics

We have adopted a code of ethics ("Code of Ethics") describing our high standard of business conduct and fiduciary duties to our clients. As a fiduciary, we have a responsibility to act solely in the best interest of each of our clients at all times. This fiduciary duty is considered the core principle for our Code of Ethics.

The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things.

Subject to satisfying the Code of Ethics and applicable laws, our officers and employees may trade for their own accounts in securities which are purchased for our clients. Among other things, our Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our employees will not interfere with (i) making decisions in our clients' best interest and (ii) implementing the decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances permits employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit inadvertently from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee.

One may request a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting us at the telephone number on the cover page.

Item 12—Brokerage Practices

"Best Execution" and "Soft Dollars" assets held in custody. The prime broker (and its affiliates) may transfer to themselves all rights, title and interest in and to those assets as collateral and may deal with, lend, dispose of, pledge or otherwise use all such collateral for their own purposes.

Item 13—Review of Accounts

Vijay Vaidyanathan and Monty Joshi review our securities transactions and portfolios on a continuous basis.

We, or our trading partner, if applicable, provide quarterly reports to each client, which includes a performance report and consolidated inventory of the investments upon which we exercise investment discretion. Monthly or quarterly statements from the account custodian(s) are sent to each separate account client directly from the corresponding brokers, banks, mutual funds, etc., which hold the client's investments. These statements disclose the assets in the custodian's custody.

We strongly encourage you to review the monthly or quarterly account statements you receive from custodians.

Item 14—Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Client Referrals

We may engage the services of independent solicitors in the future. If a client is referred to us by a solicitor, this practice will be disclosed to the client in writing by the solicitor. In these cases, we would pay the solicitor out of our own funds - specifically, we would generally pay the solicitor a portion of the fees we earn for managing the capital of the client or investor that was referred.

The Advisor does not receive any other compensation for its services that is not disclosed herein.

Item 15–Custody

Custody means holding, directly or indirectly, client funds or securities or having any authority to obtain possession of them. The SEC and the State of California have rules and regulations which are designed to safeguard client assets. We follow the rules of the SEC, which require us to follow the following procedures:

Custody: Separately Managed Accounts

Maintain Accounts with Qualified Custodians: We have all client funds and securities, except shares of mutual funds, maintained by a "qualified custodian" (i.e., a bank, registered broker-dealer) in separate accounts for each client. Although we may recommend a custodian, the client may choose its own. Shares of mutual funds and exchange traded funds are held by the fund's transfer agent.

Periodic Account Statements: Each custodian furnishes account statements to our clients no less frequently than quarterly. This statement, at a minimum, identifies the amount of funds and of each security in the account at the end of the quarter and all transactions in the account during the quarter.

Item 16–Investment Discretion

We manage separate accounts on a discretionary basis and generally allow for limitations to be placed on our investment authority provided they are contained in the signed investment advisory agreement.

Item 17—Voting Client Securities

For those circumstances when our separate account clients grant us the direct authority to vote proxies, the Firm has retained Broadridge (“Broadridge”) to assist in the proxy voting process. Monty Joshi manages the Firm’s relationship with Broadridge and ensures that all proxies are voted according to clients’ specific instructions and the Firm’s general guidance. Broadridge will also retain certain required documentation associated with proxy voting.

You can obtain a copy of our proxy voting policy and a record of votes cast by us on behalf of clients by contacting us at the address on the cover page.

Item 18—Financial Information

Optimal Asset Management, Inc. has no financial commitments that impair our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to our clients, and we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
